Biography

Who is Daniel Trigger?

Daniel Trigger is an experienced singer/songwriter from the Midlands, UK who classifies his music as 'stadium rock', written to sound at home in an arena, combining big hooks and powerful melodies with anthemic, widescreen choruses.

Starting Out.....

Daniel began writing rock music and playing in bands as a direct result of hearing Europe's 'The Final Countdown' during a visit as a teenager, to a laser light show at the London Planetarium in 1989.

It was a 'road to Damascus' moment, where Daniel immediately knew he wanted to devote his life to making music that sounded 'like that', and has remained influenced by the likes of Bon Jovi, Guns N Roses, Queen and Def Leppard to this day.

Early bands ....

As many musicians do, Daniel spent his early years writing and singing with school and local rock bands, before joining metal band 'Full Tilt' in 1995, with whom he recorded one album. Daniel later moved on to sing with rock/ blues outfit 'Easy', before forming his own band 'Trigger' in 2003.

Trigger .....

'Trigger', with lead vocals by Daniel, backed by his wife Sally and accomplished musicians, performed melodic rock in the style made famous by the stadium bands of the 80's. The band recorded 4 albums and ran for 8 successful years before reaching a natural conclusion in 2011.

Solo career ....

From here on, Daniel continued writing and recording under his own name as a solo artist, and recorded 3 albums, 'Infinite Persistence' (2012), the critically-acclaimed 'Army Of One' (2014), and 'Time Of The Titans' (2017) which received glowing reviews from the worldwide music press. All 3 of these solo albums fell into the category of 'melodic yet heavy rock', combining powerful downtuned guitar riffs with soaring vocals - imagine crossing Bon Jovi with Alter Bridge, and that will give you the idea.

Charity support .....

It was with the release of 'Time Of The Titans' in 2017 that Daniel began donating all proceeds from purchases of his music to charity, supporting worthy causes such as Marie Curie, Dementia UK and the Diana Award Anti-Bullying Campaign.

Right Turn .....

With 3 heavy rock albums under his belt, Daniel made the decision in 2017 to return to his melodic roots, and also explore an interest in country music. The result is a new rock-country crossover album called 'Right Turn', which steps away from downtuned heavy rock in favour of greater musical subtleties, infectious melodies and lyrical optimism, and provides the opportunity for Daniel to make more use of instruments such as acoustic guitar and piano.

Daniel donates all proceeds he receives from sales of the "Right Turn" album, and the single "Penitence" from it, to the Mind UK mental health charity.

The album has received fantastic reviews and media recognition worldwide including Number 7 in the Top 100 New Album Release of 2018 on the Amadeus Melodic Rock Show, one of the Top 10 DJs Choice Albums of 2018 chosen by DJ Andy Bradford on Rock Radio UK, and two Twirlie Awards - Number 21 on the Top Albums of 2018 and "Rock'n'Roll Party" at Number 33 in the Top 40 Songs of 2018 chosen by Twirl Radio and KUBU 96.5FM the Voice of Sacramento, in California, USA
